

III. TRUE/FALSE

State whether the following statements are true (T) or false (F).

- (i) Kings and queens get their power from the people they rule.
- (ii) There was a time when government did not allow women and the poor to participate in elections.
- (iii) It was Gandhiji who demanded that all adults have the right to vote.
- (iv) Men without property have no right to vote in the country like USA.
- (v) In India, everyone who is eighteen or above eighteen enjoys the right to vote.

Ans.

- (i) False,
- (ii) True,
- (iii) True,
- (iv) False,
- (v) True.

IV. MATCHING SKILL

Match the items given in column A correctly with those given in column B.

Column A

- (i) Power vested in one man
- (ii) Government of people
- (iii) It protects rights of unorganized workers
- (iv) Highest court of judgement
- (v) Women's suffrage movement

Column B

- (a) Voting right
- (b) Supreme Court
- (c) Monarchy
- (d) Democracy
- (e) Government

Ans. (i)—(c), (ii)—(e), (iii)—(b), (iv)—(d), (v)—(a).

V. VERY SHORT ANSWER TYPE QUESTIONS

1. Name some institutions that are part of the government.

Ans: The Supreme Court, the Indian Railways, Bharat Petroleum.

2. List any two functions of the government.

Ans: (i) The government protects the boundaries of the country.
(ii) It maintains peaceful relations with other countries.

3. What happens when someone commits a crime? [Imp.]

Ans: He/She finds himself/herself in court in such a situation.

4. Why is there a need to control resources and protect the territory of a country?

Ans: It is important so that people can feel secure.

5. At which three levels does the government work?

Ans: The government works at the local level, at the state level and at the national level.

6. Under which circumstances a person may approach the court?

[V. Imp.]

Ans: If a person feels that a particular law is not being followed he/she may approach the court.

7. What does the court do in such situation?

Ans: The court gives orders to the government about what should be done.

8. What do you mean by monarchy?

Ans: Monarchy is a form of government in which the monarch (king or queen) has the power to make decisions and run the government.

9. What do you mean by representative democracies? [V. Imp.]

Ans: In representative democracies people do not participate directly but, instead, choose their representatives through an election process. These representatives meet and make decisions for the entire population.

10. What do you mean by universal adult franchise?

Ans: Universal adult franchise means that all adults in the country are allowed to vote.

11. What was it unfair practice in Gandhi's eyes?

Ans: In pre-independent India, only a small minority was allowed to vote. It is they who determined the fate of the majority. This very practice was seen as unfair practice by Gandhiji.

12. What did Gandhiji demand?

Ans: Gandhiji demanded that all adults whether they rich or poor, educated or literate have the right to vote.

VI. SHORT ANSWER TYPE QUESTIONS

1. How do the government manage so many different things? [V. Imp.]

Ans: The government has a variety of works to do. To discharge each and every responsibility smoothly, it works at three different levels, at the local level, at the level of the state and at the national level. The local level means in your village, town or locality. The state level would mean the entire state and the national level relates to the entire country.

2. How is democracy different from monarchy?

Ans: Democracy is a government of the people, by the people and for the people. In this type of government people are supreme because it is they who give the government power. The government has to explain its actions and defend its decisions to the people. In a monarchy, it is the King or queen who has the power to make decisions and run the government. The monarch may have a small group of people to discuss matters with, but the final decision-making power remains with the monarch. Unlike in a democracy, kings and queens do not have to explain their actions or defend the decisions they take.

3. Can you say the earliest forms of governments democratic? If not, why? [V. Imp.]

Ans: We can not say the earliest forms of governments democratic because these governments did not allow women and the poor to participate in elections. In their earliest forms governments allowed only men who owned property and were educated, to vote. This meant that women, the poor, the property-less and the uneducated were not allowed to vote. The country was governed by the rules and regulations that these few men made.

VII. LONG ANSWER TYPE QUESTIONS

1. What does the government do for the welfare of its citizens? [V. Imp.]

Ans: The government does a variety of works for the welfare of its citizens:

- It makes decisions and gets things done.
- It builds roads and schools.
- It takes decisions about how to reduce the price of essential goods when they get too expensive or ways to increase the supply of electricity.
- It supervises postal and railway services.
- At the time of natural calamities, it organises aid and assistance for the affected people.
- It makes laws for the safety of its citizens. For example, there is a law that says that all persons driving a two-wheeler must wear helmet.

2. What was the voting system in India before Independence? What ideas did Gandhiji express in the journal Young India about voting system? [Imp.]

Ans: In India, before Independence, only a small minority enjoyed the voting right. This was shocking for Gandhiji. He firmly disapproved this system and advocated for universal adult franchise which gives all adults the right to vote.

Expressing his ideas in the journal Young India in 1931 Gandhiji said that it is discriminating to deprive poor and illiterate people of voting rights. Snatching the right to vote from a person simply because he is poor or illiterate is in no way justified. A poor or illiterate is also a citizen of the country and he has every right to enjoy all privileges existing in the country. Thus, Gandhiji was very much fair and favoured the system that would provide equal voting right to all.

 END *****